

WOULD REFUND TEN BILLION ALLIED DEBT

AUTHORITY IS ASKED FOR SECRETARY OF TREASURY IN BILL

With the President's Approval the Secretary Would be Authorized to Accept Securities in Exchange for Their Notes—Leaders Approve Administration Bill

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Unrestricted authority for the secretary of the treasury in refunding approximately ten billion dollars owed by the allied nations to this country was asked by President Harding today in the first administration bill sent to congress.

The bill was forwarded by the president to chairman of senate and house committees with urgent recommendations for enactment. It was introduced immediately in the senate by Senator Penrose and committee hearings ordered for Wednesday.

Complete powers for settling with the allied nations would be invested in Secretary Mellon under the bill.

With the president's approval, he would be authorized to accept the securities of debtor or other nations in exchange for their notes. The bill also would confer unlimited authority to defer payment of interest on principal and to settle outstanding claims against the United States.

Outlines Bill.

A letter from Secretary Mellon to the president outlining the bill presented needs for the blanket powers request. Citing that the treasury was without authority to convert, refund or defer payment of interest on principal and to settle outstanding claims against the United States.

He said it might be advisable, in the case of nations owing debts to other countries in addition to the United States to consider comprehensively the entire debt of such countries * * * so as to work out a refunding plan reasonably within the ability of such country to carry out.

No plans for disposition of the allied securities was given by Secretary Mellon. The administration bill was received by most Republican leaders with approval. It was announced by Senator Penrose to be the most important bill of the present congress. Some Democrats declared they would oppose any grant of unlimited power over the allied debts to the secretary of the treasury and intimations of a similar position were given by some Republicans.

WILLIS-CAMPBELL ANTI-BEER BILL IS REPORTED OUT

Fear of Tangle Over Question Cleared by Committee Action

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—The threatened tangle over anti-beer legislation was cleared away today by the house judiciary committee, which unanimously reported the Willis-Campbell bill, designed to prevent promulgation of beer-for-the-sick regulations by the bureau of internal revenue.

Machinery was immediately set in motion for its early passage by the house, probably on Monday. As the measure embraced only the unconvincing sections of the Volstead supplemental bill, against which protests were made by industries permitted to use alcohol, practically all opposition was removed.

The committee adopted an amendment by Chairman Vostead to specifically continue in force all revenue laws both as to beverage and non-beverage liquors. Prosecution under an internal revenue law would bar prosecution under any section of the Volstead act for the same offense.

TRAMP PAINTER GETS YEAR IN JAIL

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 23.—Roy Orvis of Humboldt, who told the city council his occupation was that of a "tramp painter," must serve one year in the county jail because he struck his seven months old daughter, Grace, in the face. Orvis laws arrested on complaint of neighbors and pleaded guilty to the charge in court today.

Chicago, June 23.—Mayor William Hale Thompson announced to the city council today that the city council would apply to the Illinois Commerce Commission as soon as it is organized for a "reduction" in telephone rates and "L" and surface line fares.

MACHINERY NOT ADEQUATE FOR BUDGET BUREAU

Charles G. Dawes, Bureau Head, Makes Statement Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Declaring congress had provided pitifully inadequate machinery for the new bureau of the budget, Charles G. Dawes, director-designate of the bureau announced today in organizing his office he would have to put chief reliance on the volunteer services of experienced business men.

"When the call came to me to take this place," said Mr. Dawes, in appealing to business men to give their assistance without compensation, "I had the same abhorrence of the thought of leaving private life to engage in such a task as you have. Only the thought that if I declined the president's call in a time of business emergency, I would regard myself as a pusillanimous quitter the rest of my life, led me to accept."

"If there is one of you who, after enjoying the benefits of great prosperity, success and prestige under the protection of a government which you claim to love, declines to accept this call except for reasons of life and death, your conscience will be cursed by the same conviction."

Help is Inadequate

Congress, the statement said, had given the budget director authority to choose only four paid assistants at a salary of not over six thousand dollars each.

In addition to the volunteer aid to be summoned, the new director said he would ask the war department to detail to his bureau Brig. Gen. George V. Moseley and Col. Henry Smith, because of their experience in organization work in the American Expeditionary Force. He announced that William T. Abbott, his associate in Chicago, would serve temporarily as assistant director and that Francis J. Kilginey his confidential secretary, and J. C. Roof of New York had offered also to contribute their services.

The period for which the volunteers are to be summoned will begin August 1, a month after the budget is to be submitted to congress.

Mr. Dawes let it be known that he expected to retire from the directorship as soon as the December budget is completed.

CARPENTERS HOLD UP SETTLEMENT OF WAGE CONTROVERSY

Fail to File Basic Agreement On Working Conditions

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 23.—A delay in the settlement of the wage controversy in the building industry here, in which Judge K. M. Landis is acting as arbiter seemed likely today when union carpenters failed to join with other union members of the Chicago Building Trades Council in submitting to Judge Landis a basic agreement regarding working conditions.

When the peace pact was submitted today Landis pointed out the futility of trying to arrive at any settlement unless he knew the terms on which the carpenters would compromise.

E. M. Craig of the Building Construction Employers' association agreed. Under the proposals jurisdictional strikes are made impossible and the building unions are not to strike when dissatisfied with the rulings of the local arbitration boards. They will remain at work, accepting the decision until the national board of awards the final court of appeal has ruled.

BANKERS ATTITUDE DENBY MAY GIVE ON BUSINESS IS DECISION IN THE TOLD TO HARDING SIMS CASE TODAY

Midwest Officials Give Him Views at Dinner Given Thursday

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—The attitude of middle western bankers and financiers toward the present business situation was detailed to President Harding tonight at the second of his conferences of "best financial minds."

A score of prominent figures in the middlewestern business world were the president's dinner guests and they are understood to have given him advice regarding the particular needs of the domestic international money market.

Also details of what occurred were held in confidence it was indicated that conservation of American home trade as distinguished from expansion of exports furnished one of the principal subjects of debate. Some of these present tonight are understood to have impressed on the president the necessity of giving adequate attention to domestic rehabilitation.

At a previous dinner Secretary Mellon of the treasury and Secretary Hoover of the commerce department were among the president's guests.

The others included: George M. Reynolds, chairman Continental and Commercial National Bank, Chicago; Frank O. Wetmore, president First National Bank of Chicago; E. D. Holbert, president of Merchants' Loan and Trust company, Chicago; John J. Mitchell, president Illinois Trust & Savings bank, Chicago; John S. Exports to Europe aggregated one hundred and seventy seven million in May of last year. Exports to South America during May aggregated eighteen million dollars against fifty eight million in May of last year. Imports from Europe for the month amounted to sixty one million dollars against ninety two million dollars the same month last year.

Imports from South America aggregated twenty three million dollars compared with sixty three million dollars in May of last year.

MANY MEASURES MAY NOT BECOME LAWS ON JULY 1

Governor Small Issues Statement Relative to Situation

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 23.—Possibility that some, perhaps many of the bills passed by the 52nd general assembly may not become laws until July 1, 1922 and a question of whether they would then take their place on the statute books, developed today in an explanation by Governor Small of the situation in which he has been placed by delay in the official endorsement of bills. Over three hundred bills passed by the legislature have not reached the governor's office and it will be a physical impossibility for him to examine and approve all of them, he said.

The constitution provides that the governor must have ten days, eliminating the date of receipt of bills passed, and all Sundays for the approval or rejection of legislative action. If more time is given and the measure is neither signed or vetoed it becomes a law without executive action on July 1.

If the bill is not received by the governor ten days prior to July 1 and is not signed or vetoed it does not become a law at least until July 1 of the following year and a decision of the courts would probably be necessary to determine whether it even then becomes effective, the governor said.

Working at High Speed

All the executive and legislative machinery has been thrown into high speed in an effort to get as many bills as possible to the governor who said he has done everything in his power to speed the progress of the measures.

Speaker Dahlberg and Lieutenant Governor Sterling arrived in the capital to affix their signatures to bills as rapidly as the delay in the enrolling committee is overcome. With only six days remaining before July 1 many of the bills must go to the attorney general for examination as to their constitutionality before the governor takes final action.

In his statement to newspapermen late today Governor Small said:

"As soon as these bills reach me I will be compelled to sign or veto them. I expect to work literally day and night in an effort to examine and finally pass on just as many of these three hundred bills as is humanly possible. But I fear that it will not be humanly possible to give many of these bills the scrutiny they should have before they are either approved or vetoed, within the six and one-half days remaining before the general assembly reconvenes for final adjournment."

"I do not intend to sign or veto any measure which I have not had the time to conscientiously consider. As a result I fear that some of these bills cannot become laws the first of next month. It shall be my endeavor to give my time to the consideration of those bills which are of the most importance to the general welfare of the whole people."

CHARGED WITH COUNTERFEITING

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, June 23.—William Stover and his wife and James Hazelwood were arrested today by secret service agents on charges of counterfeiting. They were held in $7,000 bonds each and will be arraigned at Rockville, Va., the first scene, it was said, of their operations. The prisoners were declared to be wanted in Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Cleveland and Detroit. Their arrest ended a chase over a dozen states which began four months ago. The three were declared to have raised small bank notes to a larger denominations.

M'CUMBER ASKS FOR PASSAGE OF MEASURE FOR SOLDIERS BONUS

Discussed the Question With the President—Senator Borah Makes a Bitter Attack on the Measure—Says the Courageous Thing it to Tell the Soldiers Cannot Pay in Cash

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Proposals to pay in cash, valuable services or land, a bonus to former service men, were advocated in the senate today by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, and made the subject of an onslaught by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho.

Senator McCumber previously discussed the bonus bill and other fiscal legislation with President Harding and said his conference had given him the feeling that the president expected bonus legislation to be enacted at the present extra session.

Senator Borah launched his attack principally at the method and delay involved in the making of payments under the bill, declaring it discreditable to the Republican party.

"The courageous thing to do," he said, "is to tell the soldiers you cannot pay them in cash."

Senator McCumber said the adjusted compensation was a matter of justice and that the word "bonus" had resulted in unjustified criticism.

"If the Republican party is courageous and honorable it will send this bill back to committee," Senator Borah asserted, "and tell the country and the soldiers the bonus cannot be paid in cash or face the prospect of doing it. This bill undertakes to promise four billions in cash to the soldiers and to promise to the taxpayers that it will not cost them anything."

"I venture to say that every service man understands that it is a proposition to give him five or six hundred dollars in cash. Why the delay if this is a moral obligation, a delay for three years and a half after the war? It is because we dare not put upon our constituents this four million dollar obligation and then go out and tell them it is done."

PRESIDENT TAKES HAND IN PROGRAM OF LEGISLATION

Endeavors to Speed up Tax and Tariff Measures Now Pending

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Harding took a hand in the legislative program today in an effort to speed up enactment of tariff and tax legislation by calling Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee to the White House to discuss the possibilities of early passage of such laws. Meanwhile the suggestion was renewed by Senator Watson of Indiana member of the senate finance committee that tax revision be placed ahead of tariff legislation.

Mr. Fordney informed the president that the Republican committee draft of the permanent tariff bill would be ready by Monday or Tuesday for consideration of the full committee. He explained that a caucus of house Republicans would be held before the bill is submitted to the house.

Senator Watson's suggestion led to floor statements by Republicans and Democrats that they would support his proposals.

Intense Economic Reaction

"The country is in the midst of an intense economic reaction from the war," Senator Watson said. "This is not the fault of legislation, x x x The country can rest assured that both the tariff and revenue bills will pass but my own thought is that we cannot revive business until we first repeal the excess profits taxes and the higher surtaxes upon income. They are depressive influences on business even though they are not to be paid, because the business depression will reduce their yield to the vanishing point, x x x"

"The situation condemns labor to idleness and the train of economic woes."

"We cannot expect the general tariff bill to be reported to the house within ten days and to be enacted within three weeks after that. It will take some time for the tariff bill to get thru the senate finance committee four or five weeks."

"We can formulate a tariff bill but with the present international exchange rate the derangement of economic life all over the globe, conditions will inevitably make some details of any bill we may bring out obsolete within six months. If we pass the revenue law, business will have some reassurance; it will know what its burdens are to be the direct burden it has to carry. Then we can take up the tariff and other questions."

Davis of Hollywood, and Erick Springer of Ocean Park in an attempted non-stop race for New York in a biplane built airplane will take place at daylight tomorrow, they announced today. (By The Associated Press)

Springfield, Ill., June 23.—Proposal of a national park in Springfield surrounding the old Lincoln homestead was made by D. I. Fogger of Springfield before the International Optimists club's convention here today. The plan also includes a scenic drive from this city to Old Salem state park, early Illinois home of Abraham Lincoln.

The cost of the proposed memorial park and drive would be raised by national subscription, Mr. Fogger said, adding that the memorial could be dedicated to heroes of the world war. The suggestion was made at the opening meeting of the two-day convention here today.

The general assembly passed the fireman's platoon law. Under this law a fireman cannot remain on duty more than 12 hours at a time. Certainly is a wise provision that gives cities a year's grace before it is necessary to put the law into effect.

Chinch bugs are bad this year but like other detrimental things they can be overcome. Morgan county farmers are finding out that by some extra work and the use of known methods they are able to prevent any great damage resulting from the onslaught of these insects.

It seems that even arbitration doesn't always bring satisfactory results. The prices for some of the land desired in connection with the big new reservoir at Decatur were fixed by arbitration. The figures were so high that there is much criticism and now the proposal is made to fix value for the remaining land by condemnation proceedings instead of arbitration.

So great has been the enthusiasm in the Bloomington campaign to secure a fund of $660,000 for Wesleyan university that the close of the campaign will show a very considerable surplus. The goal of $660,000 will be exceeded by at least $100,000. Evidently the business men of Bloomington and the people generally realize the value of having such an institution as the Wesleyan located permanently in their city.

Gen. Dawes as chief of the budget department of the U. S. has no easy task. It is a much simpler matter to appropriate and spend money than it is to cut down expenditures. The Chicago financier has the prospect of continual strife with the department heads. It seems he is also handicapped by the small appropriations made for the maintenance of his department and is already appealing to men of large business experience to share in the work without remuneration.

The big coal interests are strenuously objecting to a federal bill giving the government some powers for the control of the coal industry. If these same operators would put lower prices into effect they would go a long way toward reducing the demand for government interference.

It's a fact that few of the comic weeklies survive, most of them having "passed away" because of financial difficulties. The reason is found in the development of cartoon series in the daily newspapers. "Skeet" and "Colonel Cottle," "Little Jimmy," "The Duffs" and other people of cartoon fame have put the weekly comic paper out of business.

The supreme court of Kansas by unanimous finding has declared the Kansas industrial court law constitutional. Time may show that some amendments to that law are desirable, but the plan is likely to continue in operation not only in Kansas but in other states. It will survive from this very fact—it recognizes that the public has equal interests with the employee in labor difficulties.

Since the past year has shown such an increase in highway robberies in cities and towns it's not so very surprising that there is an increase in piracy on the sea. A number of vessels and their cargoes have mysteriously disappeared with recent weeks and one "bottle" message indicates piracy.

Along with these facts is the story that this same piracy is a part of soviet Russia's program and that the stolen vessels are to be used by the government. That feature of the story is no doubt imaginary, but the disappearance of the vessels is a fact. The government will find the way to put an end to this new line of trouble.

PATRIOTISM AND MANNERS.

Speaking at a college commencement the other day, John W. Davis, ex-ambassador to Great Britain, expressed the view that loud boasting of our national virtues and achievements, implying that we are vastly superior to the rest of the world, is a display of bad manners rather than an indication of real patriotism. Mr. Davis pointedly observed that Americanism does not consist in "a vast contempt for other nations," and that "one may be a very good American and still believe that all wisdom will not die with us, and that other nations possess many virtues which we not only do not monopolize but which we can well afford to imitate."

The New York Times recommends this view to the consideration of the orators preparing to speak on the coming national holiday and says: "Few, if any, of the speakers who have been wont on Fourth of July to tell their hearers what a great and noble people we are, and how much greater and nobler we are than other peoples, would talk in this absurd and unmanly way about themselves or any one of their hearers. They have too much sense for that and too much fear of exciting derisive laughter as windy, self-magnifiers or fulsome flatterers." The view of Mr. Davis is forcible, but the national habit is deep-seated.

LITERATE VOTERS WANTED.

New York New York State will offer for public approval a constitutional amendment imposing a literacy test on all persons acquiring the franchise after the first of next year—1922, no person shall be eligible to vote by attaining majority, by naturalization or otherwise, unless such person is also able, except by physical disability, to read and write English, and suitable laws shall be passed by the legislature to enforce this provision.

Like the literacy qualifications in the southern states, which were devised to restrict the negro vote, this English language literacy test in New York is intended to restrict the foreign born vote, and like the southern regulations, which excepted certain classes already in possession of the ballot, it does not apply to persons already qualified to vote under existing regulations. Literacy tests (although in conflict with the 14th amendment to the federal constitution adopted in 1868 in the midst of revolutionary times, are by no means new in this country, having been for years enforced not only in the South but in various states of New England and the west. This is New York's first move in that direction, however, and it is directly due to the "Americanization" effort since the world war to eliminate foreign influence so far as possible.

DUTCH GOVERNMENT MAKES PUBLIC REPLY

(By The Associated Press)

THE HAGUE, June 23.—The Dutch government today made public its reply to the American government's note of May 27, protesting against the policy of The Netherlands government with respect to the exploitation of the Djambi Oil field of the Dutch East Indies.

The reply pointed out that last October the minister of the colonies had supplied the American minister with clear information on the Djambi question and concerning arrangements by which the Dutch government considered itself bound. In September the note says the negotiations with the Batavia company were so far advanced that there could no longer be any question of taking proposals from the United States or elsewhere into consideration.

The Dutch government, the note said, was unable to admit that its bill passed by parliament closing the Djambi fields to the participation by Americans in the oil industry was contrary to the principle of reciprocity.

The note concluded by repeating that the Dutch government did not desire to exclude American capital from an equitable share in the petroleum industry of the Dutch Indies within the limits legally prescribed for private enterprises.

LEGISLATION TO AID COAL DISTRIBUTION

Washington, June 23.—Legislation designed to facilitate distribution of the country's coal supply was considered in the senate today and made the vehicle by which proposals to repeal salient sections of the transportation act will be brought to a vote.

To the Frelinghuysen bill establishing seasonal freight rates on coal, Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, brought in amendments which would revoke the guaranty of a six per cent return on railroad property used in transportation, would also revoke the power of the interstate commerce commission to fix rates and would extend the commission's power to make rates regardless of the return upon investment.

St. Louis, Mo., June 23.—Abolishment of the progressive discount rate in effect since May 25, 1920, was announced by William Martin, chairman of the board of the eighth federal reserve district today. This leaves a flat six per cent discount rate on all classes of loans and securities made by the bank thru its member banks, it was explained, with the exception of bankers' acceptances rediscouted, which carry a five one-half per cent rate.

BAPTIST CONVENTION RESEMBLES OLD TIME POLITICAL MEETING

Chicago Minister Starts Violent Controversy by Charges

(By The Associated Press)

Des Moines, Iowa, June 23.—After what is described as the most violently controversial session in the history of the Northern Baptist convention which developed unheralded from a program apparently devoid of grounds for a fight, the delegates sitting at the home mission society voted to accept an anonymous gift of a trust fund valued at one million seven hundred and fifty dollars with certain restrictions.

The bequest is said to have come from a man living on the Pacific coast. Filibuster and tempestuous disregard of parliamentary rules featured the oratorical battle which lasted practically all afternoon. An attack was started upon the acceptance of the unknown donor's gift immediately following the reading of the report upon the work of the American Baptist home mission society by Dr. Charles W. White, executive secretary of New York.

After a series of speeches, the Rev. M. P. Boynton of Chicago, charged that trust funds in the past have been basely betrayed by those who have handled them. This was taken up by delegates in the galleries who demanded to know "who," "name them" and "who is guilty?"

Dr. Boynton turned to the hecklers and answered, "I refer to the University of Chicago divinity school."

Dr. Boynton's charges were branded as false by an unknown delegate who answered, "as a graduate of the University of Chicago, I deny the statement."

Insistent sounding of the gavel brought the delegates to order. Repeated demands were made by the delegates to know the names of those who Dr. Boynton charged with betraying the trust funds. Dr. Boynton did not comment further on his charges except to answer his heckler by saying, "I am from Chicago and I know what I am talking about when I talk about the university."

Every effort is being made to conceal the identity of the wealthy layman who has offered the trust fund to the Home Mission society. The gift is accompanied by the provision that none of the money is to be used to pay salaries of missionaries or colporters who do not subscribe to tenets of the Baptist faith in the form of a creedal test.

Dr. Boynton did not comment further on his charges except to answer his heckler by saying, "I am from Chicago and I know what I am talking about when I talk about the university."

ISSUES FIGURES ON RACIAL POPULATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The racial composition of the population of the United States in 1920, as announced tonight by the census bureau, shows the country to contain 94,822,431 white persons, 10,463,613 negroes, 242,959 Indians, 111,025 Japanese, 61,686 Chinese, and 9,455 others. The Japanese race exceeded by far the rate of growth in the last ten years of all other classes.

Unofficial estimates of the increase in the number of Japanese in the United States particularly on the Pacific Coast were borne out in the official tabulation which revealed a rate of expansion of 53.9 per cent during the decade of 1910-20.

The white population showed only a 16 per cent expansion for the decade and the negro 5 per cent; the Indian and Chinese groups dwindled 8.6 per cent and 13.9 per cent respectively. The growth in the white population was considerably less than the previous decade which was 22.3 per cent.

The greatest numerical increase in the white population was shown in the east-north central division embracing Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin where the increase was 3,011,365. The rate of increase in the negro population was the lowest on record, according to the statement.

Evidence of the migration of the negro to the north and west was found in the figures showing nearly three fourths of the increase in the negro population of 724,418 of the 635,250 gain in these sections.

Michigan with 60,682 negroes led all states in percentage of increase with 251 per cent. Illinois and Ohio, with increases of 67.1 per cent, showed further evidence of the northward movement of negroes.

"Her Lord and Master"

No two persons will agree all the time. No wife will submit to her husband's commands indefinitely, even though she married him because she believed he would rule her with an iron hand. The story is told of an Italian girl, whose parents so humored her whims that the child was ashamed of herself and resolved to marry a man who would become her lord and master. Only once did this willful girl disobey the dictates of her husband; but on that occasion there was drama in the air. Two strong wills met, there was a clash and then a better understanding between husband and wife.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. R. M. GALBRAITH

Large Company Gathered to Honor Memory of Former Resident.

Funeral services in memory of the late Mrs. R. M. Galbraith were held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. It had been the wish of Mrs. Galbraith that when the final day of her life came that she should be brought back to the old home city. Therefore it was especially fitting that the services were held in the home of her childhood, at 434 East State street, the present residence of Mrs. Charles Price.

Rev. M. L. Pontius was in charge of the services. After reading several passages of scripture and offering a prayer, the minister spoke with evident feeling of the life and influence of Mrs. Galbraith. During her visits to this city in recent years Mr. Pontius had come into a personal appreciation of Mrs. Galbraith's character and spirit. He commented briefly upon her joy in service and referred to the influences of such a life as without end. Then Mr. Pontius quoted comforting words from the scripture for the strengthening of sorrowing relatives and friends. He said that they were not as those who are without hope, for a life of the type of Mrs. Galbraith's gives assurance of immortality and its undying reward.

Miss Edna Hackett sang effectively "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Then the cortege moved to Diamond Grove cemetery where Mrs. Galbraith was laid to rest. The offerings of flowers were especially profuse having been sent by friends from many cities. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Chester Hemphill, Mrs. W. W. Gillham, Misses Ruth Taylor and Anna Frances Bradley.

The bearers were Ernest, Olive and Edwin Galbraith, Albert Strong, Chester Hemphill and Frank Byrns.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

In the front window of Brady Brothers store are several articles showing the stages thru which manila fiber passes in being made into the far famed Columbia rope. The fiber is a beautiful color and the various processes thru which it passes are interesting.

The writer well remembers the old time rope walks which were in use when he was a boy. The hemp was raised, cut, cured, broken on a machine especially fitted for the purpose and the tow was spun and finally the block with the spiral grooves was brought out, the cords passed thru the proper places and the walker would take it in his hand, walk down the allotted stretch and twist a rope as he went.

When the Civil war broke out and cotton became so scarce various means were adopted to overcome the trouble. Flax was raised quite extensively and carpet chain was spun from that and much was used in ways to replace cotton.

The stems of the flax were rotted, to tow taken from them and made into various articles which were very useful.

DIDN'T STAY LONG.

Attracted by stories of work at good prices William Rawlings and Alonzo Fernandes of the west part of the county, entered their Ford runabout and started for northern Kansas where the supposed Eldorado was located. Arriving there they found the reality far different from the descriptions. Wages are hardly as good as here and the men were treated very poorly. All they were supposed to have was a blanket or some kind of a wrap and hunt the best bed he could find about the stall. The young men were not especially fastidious and wanted to work but they hardly cared to put up with such accommodations and put back for Suckerdom as fast as their car would carry them. They were gone but four days arriving home before dark and fortunately striking a job before night. In the words of the son of Erin: next time they go to Kansas hunting work they'll stay at home.

WEEPS AS ATTORNEY
ASKS SHE PAY PENALTY

Chicago, June 23.—Mrs. Cora Isabelle Orthwein wept today as she listened to Lloyd Heath, assistant state's attorney demand in his appeal to the jury that she pay the penalty for the murder of Herbert Ziegler.

"Both played the same game. Both should pay the same penalty," he declared. Previously he had said he would be satisfied if he obtained a manslaughter verdict carrying a sentence of one year to life in the penitentiary.

"I do not stand here," he said in his argument to the jury, "as a champion of Lloyd Ziegler, the man who left his wife and daughter for this woman. This jury must accept him as a wrongdoer, but so was she. Ziegler is found dead. She still lives and has her freedom."

Miss Josephine Ross has gone to Chicago where she will attend the Chicago University for six weeks. From there she will go to Minnesota, Minn., where she will visit the remainder of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Erickson and children and Miss Oora Askad of Minnesota, Minnesota, are visiting at the home of Mrs. H. S. Ross on Pine street. They made the trip by car and will remain in the city for a week.

GOMPERS GIVES HIS OPINION OF EDITOR HEARST

banks through the country was defeated by the convention.
The Ohio State Workmen's compensation law was indorsed and all state federations were urged to take steps to secure similar legislation in their states.

A resolution directing an inquiry into the use of savings and funds held by banks and insurance companies was adopted.

Declare War on Injunctions
Denver, Colo., June 23.—The American Federation of Labor today declared war against the "judicial tyranny of injunctions."

The annual convention adopted a resolution calling upon all affiliated organizations to inaugurate energetic campaign against the ever growing abuse of injunction in "labor disputes" and to "conduct such campaigns unceasingly until the intolerable practice is abandoned."

The declaration submitted by the International Ladies' Garment Workers, condemned the courts, particularly in New York for "their alarming attitude of antagonism toward organized workers."

After lengthy debate the convention voted down a proposal calling for an addition to the constitution taking the power of declaring war from congress and placing it in the hands of the people by a referendum vote. The official roll showed a vote of 21-742 to 14,530.

The convention also went on record for government control of the meat packing industry and urged legislation to limit the spread between the rate at which member banks of the federal reserve system secure money and the rate they are permitted to charge for the use thereof to not more than one and one-half per cent.

FIFTY-TWO YEARS IN FIRE SERVICE

By Associated Press.
Cleveland, O.—With the rounding out of 52 years of continuous service on June first, friends of Fire Chief George A. Wallace claimed he is the oldest fireman in the world in point of service.

Chief Wallace has been at the head of Cleveland's fire department for more than twenty years. Never in that long period has he had a demerit mark.

Wallace, 73 years old, joined the department in 1869. He carries himself like a man of 40.

When he joined the department there were 85 members, 78 of whom are now dead. He has seen the hand apparatus of volunteer firemen give way to the fire horse and has seen the horse replaced by motor apparatus, the local department being completely motorized.

ORDERED TO REINSTATE AGENTS

Washington, June 23.—Instructions have been sent to all federal prohibition directors to reinstate all reliable and trustworthy enforcement agents it was announced today by the prohibition bureau.

Because of a lack of funds about seven hundred agents were laid off in May but with the deficiency appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars made available by congress it was explained that the bureau would be able to fill out its force.

Dr. M. D. Henderson was a professional caller in the city yesterday from Franklin.

ATTACK MADE BY LORD CURZON ON LEAGUE COVENANT

Declares Force and Reason
In President Harding's View

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, June 23.—An attack on the covenant of the league of nations was made in the house of lords tonight by Lord Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs. He declared many existing international difficulties were due to the turning in the making of peace, and he uttered a strong appeal for the utmost American co-operation with the allies.

His speech was made in the course of a general discussion on mandates, in which he admitted that parliament was entitled to more information but he said this was a subject involved in obscurity. The language of the covenant was such that not even a trained lawyer knew what it meant.

Lord Curzon was inclined to think there was a mistake in policy, when the allies met in Paris, in their desire to formulate the league. They rushed almost with precipitation, he said, to discuss questions which it now would seem would have better been solved by being postponed.

He held the opinion that, if, instead of taking up the better regulation of the world, they had at the close of the war endeavored to secure the peace of the world as it then was we should have been much further advanced in the conditions of peace than we now are.

Lord Curzon declared there was force and reason in President Harding's view that America was entitled to be consulted before the mandate could be settled and he believed the league was likely to reply that they would decide to postpone consideration of the mandates, and trust that the other governments concerned would enter into communication with the American government before the mandates could be settled and he believed the league was likely to reply that they would decide to postpone consideration of the mandates, and trust that the other governments concerned would enter into communication with the American government before the meeting of the assembly in September.

TRYING TO AVOID PAYING LUXURY TAX

Rome.—(By A. P.)—Ingenuous methods are invented here to avoid paying the luxury tax. The tailor approaches one mysteriously when his suit is finished and asks if he wishes to have a bill when he pays for it, in which case he will have to add $30 luxury tax.

"If, however, you like to give me $240 here and now I will give you a suit, and we will say no more about making out a bill," he adds.

A foreigner was buying some lace in a Roman shop which cost $24 and, to her surprise, the owner of the shop said: "Would you like me to make you a bill for $3.80 (the luxury tax begins on articles over $4) and then if you will give my little girl a present of $20, that will make things right. Why should we either of us pay money to the government that we are not obliged to?"

MANY THINGS TO BE SEEN IN HAWAII

Delegates to Press Congress of the World Will Be Shown Many Beautiful Things on the Occasion of Their Visit Next October.

(By The Associated Press)
Honolulu, T. H.—The greatest continually active volcano in the world; the crater of the earth's largest dormant volcano; majestic coast lines, baking sands; a miniature Grand Canyon of the Colorado; miles upon miles of pineapples; these and a hundred other impressive and novel sights will be spread before the delegates to the press congress of the world which will meet in Honolulu next October.

When the business sessions are over the entertainment committee formed in Hawaii intends to take the delegates on a steamer tour of the islands and in the eight days planned for this trip an interesting itinerary will be followed.

The vessel will skirt the majestic windward coast of Molokai and from its decks the delegates will see the famous leper settlement of Kalaupapa, a settlement that promises soon to pass into history with the ever increasing progress being made against the disease by the chaulmoogra oil specific extracted in the University of Hawaii laboratories.

On the island of Maui a great rodeo is planned for the visiting publishers and editors and there also they will be taken to visit the enchanting Iao valley and other beauty spots. On that island too they will be given opportunity to explore Haleakala, the greatest of existing volcanoes, 10,000 feet high with a crater 3,000 feet deep and more than 20 miles in circumference.

Skirting the east coast of the island of Hawaii, the largest of the group, Mauna Kea, the Pacific's loftiest peak, its snow-clad summit breaking the clouds, will offer a scenic thrill before the party lands at Hilo, the second largest city in the territory. From Hilo an auto ride will take the delegates to Kilauea, 30 miles distant, where the lava in the crater of Halemaumau (the house of fire) never ceases its restless swirl.

After side trips into historic districts of the island of Hawaii, the travelers will board their steamer again near the spot where Captain Cook, discoverer of the islands, was killed by the natives, a spot marked by an imposing monument.

While the visitors will be given every opportunity to see the natural beauties of the islands they will also have a chance to estimate for themselves the great industrial importance of the territory in the vistas of sugar cane, pineapple, coffee and tobacco fields spread out in every direction.

Chicago, June 23.—Twenty three automobiles started today on a tour of 200 cities in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa, carrying an invitation from Mayor Thompson to attend the pageant of progress in Chicago next month. Herrin, Ill., June 23.—A local of the United Mine Workers of America at Ziegler, said to be one of the largest in Illinois, has voted to ask district headquarters at Springfield to permit a referendum on a proposal that Illinois miners donate $100,000 to striking British miners.

TO PRESENT HARDING WITH COWBOY HAT

He was taken to his home where it was said that his wounds were not serious.

FASHIONS BOTHER LITTLE IN RAPA

Natives Live in Primitive Simplicity—Good Place to Live as Women Do All Work Even Feeding Their Husbands.

(By the Associated Press)
Papeete, Tahiti.—Rapa (or Rapa Iti, to give its full name) an island about 700 miles south of Tahiti untouched by the corrosive blight of civilization whose natives live in a state of primitive simplicity is described here as "undefiled by Paris fashions or high heeled shoes. Indeed, they have no fashions at all except such of a cast off nature as may be supplied at very rare intervals by the good people of Tahiti when the missionary schooner chances to be going that way."

Rapa would be the ideal resort for the Tired Business Man. It is place where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary may find rest if he be of the masculine gender. In Rapa the women do all the work—tilling the fields; preparing the meals; and even feeding their lords and masters. All the men have to do is to go out on an occasional fishing expedition; and the rest of the time to sleep. When dinner time arrives they are awakened and the women of the house feed them by rolling the food in little morsels and tossing them into their mouths. The only efforts they are obliged to make is the act of chewing; and when this wearies them they resume their slumbers until the next meal time.

Unfortunately, Rapa is remote and inaccessible. There is no direct communication from Tahiti except when the French gunboat makes a voyage that way (once a year or so) or the missionary schooner makes its rounds even less often.

Being well out of the tropics the coconut tree does not thrive there; the only product of any commercial value being coffee. This is not, however, worth going after as sufficient coffee is raised on Tahiti and the nearby islands to supply the demand.

Scientists are interested in Rapa on account of some massive stone works situated on the hills that look like fortifications. Who built them and for what purpose are problems yet unsolved.

Representatives from the Bishop Museum of Honolulu now in these islands are endeavoring to get to Rapa in order to study these remains and to solve the mystery of their builders.

Jack a Bookworm

Jack Dempsey's police dog guards him while he reads. Jack is a book lover, they say, but they don't say that he is reading Ibsen, the Edison questionnaire or George Bernard Shaw.

DEMPSEY OBLIGED TO WORK FOR CROWD

Had Intended to Lay Off Thursday But Crowd of About One Thousand Insist on Seeing Him Perform.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 23.—After plans had been made today to have Jack Dempsey lay off, an announcement was made that the public would not be admitted to the camp, the champion was compelled to get into his gymnasium clothes this afternoon to satisfy a crowd of about one thousand persons who are anxious to pay 50 cents to see Dempsey while the punching bags for 30 minutes.

"Looks like you'll have to work a bit after all," said Jack Kearns, manager when he saw the crowd. Dempsey was routed off his front porch to display his bag punching ability.

Dempsey exhibited his famous shift and other blows on the inflated bags for four three-minute rounds and then hopped into the ring for a two round session with the sixty pound fluff-stuffed bag. He pounded the swinging target for six minutes with astonishing power, sending it flying back six or seven feet with wicked straight left and rights. He wound up by taking some bending exercises and other calisthenics.

Kearns announced tonight that Kid Norfolk, negro light heavyweight and other sparring partners expected in camp to assist getting Dempsey into a fine fighting edge would not be needed. Dempsey will begin to taper off next week instead of continuing hard work with the gloves, Kearns said.

Tomorrow Dempsey will celebrate his 25th birthday with a feast. He will box Saturday and Sunday and then only exhibit himself in a light workout on Monday. He will take his final workouts with the gloves Tuesday and Wednesday. Just enough exercise to loosen up his muscles will be taken Thursday. The champion will do no training Friday.

"We will move over to Jersey City Friday night to tag the Frenchman Saturday," Kearns said.

CARPENTIER LOOSENS UP IN HIS WORKOUT

Floors Three Sparring Partners in Course of Afternoon—No More Public Exhibitions.

Manhasset, N. Y., June 23.—Loosening up in what was announced as his last public workout before his fight with Dempsey, Georges Carpentier floored three sparring partners this afternoon. The largest crowd that has attended a workout here gathered early on the front lawn. There were numerous face well known in the sporting and theatrical world and several Frenchmen who comprised the advance guard of more than four hundred who are coming to see the fight.

The challenger, tarrying only a short time at the bags vaulted into the ring and said:

"Let's go."

Then came three new sparring partners. First was Dave Rose, a welter weight. He became too bold and waded into Carpentier. He was sent to the floor with a right hook after half a minute of fighting. George permitted him to come back then punished him some more. For the second round appeared Dave Rosenberg, middleweight, who lost the decision in a 12-round bout with Mike Gibbons. In Brooklyn, May 30, Rosenberg's jaw felt the challenger's right and he fell heavily to the ring floor.

Carpentier assisted him to his feet then started both hands working to his jaw and body. He had Rosenberg so groggy that Manager Descamps called a halt.

Chris Arnold, a light heavyweight, was a mark for the Frenchman and caved in under his right on two occasions. He apparently was knocked out the last time but Carpentier held him for the rest of the round. Arnold was bleeding at the nose and mouth and Joe Jonette was called to replace him. One and Georges boxed tamely for a round and the workout was over. When Manager Descamps announced thru, one of the newspapermen present that the gates would be closed to all until after July 2.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL HAS IMPROVEMENTS

Many Things Have Been Done to Make Institution Up-to-Date in Every Respect.

Ever it is the aim of the Passavant hospital management to have it a place without a flaw for the care of the sick and wounded. Of course such a place needs constant attention and Passavant is getting it. The two operating room suites have been thoroughly overhauled and put in first-class shape. Especial attention has been given to perfect sterilization and freedom from any possibility of germs. The sterilizing outfits have been put in perfect order and all pertaining thereto has been fixed up in the best possible shape.

The wounded and those needing attention daily must have a dressing room into which they can be wheeled for that purpose. These places on the different floors have been put in the finest shape possible. Hard enamel on the walls, the floors have been made perfect and all that pertains to them has been put beyond criticism.

Then facilities for the doctors have been improved and increased. Robbing rooms where they can prepare for operations of any kind; lockers for their clothing and possessions and shower baths for them when they are thru with their work.

Then a room had been specially arranged and fitted for lady physicians and will be devoted especially to their use. They are fitted with closets and appliances which are generally needed in such places. Conveniences for nurses have also been arranged which will be very much valued.

A waiting room has been prepared where for those who have friends in the operating room. The X-ray suite has been fixed up in fine shape and is being treated to a new linoleum floor covering which will place it in perfect condition for the important work done there.

A room has been devoted to the historical records of various patients which will be useful for physicians and others in future years. Bath rooms have been installed on the different floors making cleanliness easy for every one. Many closets and cupboards have been constructed taking the place of things hung against the wall and covered with a curtain. The linen stock room has been enlarged and refitted and the long needed laundry is rapidly approaching completion.

LOSES CONTROL OF AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. Austin Strikes Pedestrians In South Main Street.

Not a little excitement was caused on the square about three o'clock yesterday afternoon when an auto driven by Mrs. Ed Austin struck some passengers getting on the South Main street car. Mrs. Austin was driving a Dixie Flyer and was going south on South Main street. She was evidently unable to stop her car and three men who were getting on the street car, were hit by the auto.

The auto then ran upon the sidewalk breaking and twisting the iron railing around the basement steps of the Armory building.

As far as could be ascertained none of the men struck were seriously injured. McMeans was the name of one of the men. The others were not known.

MEMORIAL FEATURES FOR ILLINOIS STADIUM

Urbana, Ill., June 23.—Governors of every state in the Union are to have a share in designing the memorial features for the new University of Illinois stadium. If plans announced by the executive committee are realized, the stadium is to be a memorial to the soldiers and sailors of the state and the University who fought in the World War.

Committee leaders have been in communication with governors of the states, seeking information in regard to the type of memorial which each state will erect to commemorate the fighting forces. Only few states, however, have decided definitely on a memorial.

"With this information and material," declares G. Huff, director of athletics, and leading member of the executive committee, "we can pick out the best memorial designs of the most prominent architects of America, and use them as the feature of our stadium. And, too, we are anxious to cooperate with the American Legion in fostering and furthering the idea of state memorials."

It is now quite evident that the Legion will join with the University in consecrating the stadium to the memory of the 353,000 soldiers of the state who fought in the war. As the leading feature memorial Doric columns, surrounding the stadium court of honor, will be dedicated to the 173 Illinois students who died in the war.

SANATORIUM FACTS
WILL BE PRESENTED

Tuberculosis League and County Commissioners Will Meet Today—Property Cannot Be Sold.

Representatives of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis league will hold another conference today with members of the county board, relative to the sanatorium situation. On behalf of the board State's Attorney Robinson submitted certain questions to the attorney general. Yesterday a reply came from the attorney general's office, indicating that the county board is without authority to sell the sanatorium property. There has been no expression of the board's wish to dispose of the property, but that plan has been suggested, and in order to learn the legal facts it was decided to ask the attorney general for an opinion.

It is stated that the law which provides the way for the establishment of a sanatorium makes no provision for any disposition of the property. The opinion says that there is no court decision to furnish a precedent as to whether the general provisions of the law governing the sale of county properties would give authority to the board for the sale of sanatorium property.

Since the county has a deficiency in the general fund, members of the board have not yet seen the way whereby they can advance money for the completion or operation of the sanatorium. This and other matters relating to the one big subject will be discussed at the conference today.

BELIEVE TRAIN WAS WRECKED BY PATIENT

Officials are of Opinion That Patient from State Hospital Cause of Alton Wreck.

Special agents of the Chicago & Alton railroad who have been investigating the mysterious wrecking of the Hummer, which occurred near Bloomington on the night of May 18, believe that it was the work of Andy Brennan, patient at the Jacksonville State Hospital.

Brennan is a former resident of Sangamon county who escaped some time ago. When he was taken, near Centralia, he denied at first that he was ever a patient at the institution, but finally admitted the fact. He would not, however, admit any knowledge of the wreck.

On account of the mental condition of the patient there will, of course, be no prosecution.

In the circuit court yesterday the jury which heard the evidence in the assumption suit of Mrs. Minnie Triplett vs. the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., brought in a verdict finding the issues in favor of the plaintiff and awarding her damages in the sum of $1,000. MATRIMONIAL Snyder-Linn.

Lewis Snyder, former Jacksonville resident, was married in Chicago to Miss Jennie Linn of that city, Saturday evening, June 18, according to advice received by relatives here.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Johnson of the Swedish Lutheran church, and was witnessed by a sister of the bride, and by a friend of the groom who served with him overseas in the late World war in the 129th machine gun company of the 33rd division. The bride wore a dress of white satin, and carried white sweet peas. She was attended by a bridesmaid in pink, carrying pink sweet peas.

Mr. Snyder has lived in Chicago for the last five years where he holds a responsible position with the tailoring establishment of Hart, Schaffner and Marx.

PRAISES FEEDING OF CHILDREN

NEW YORK—The American Relief administration recently gave out a statement received by President Hainisch of the Austrian Republic in which he praises the results attained by the Hoover organization's child-feeding program. President Hainisch, according to the Relief Administration statement, declares that the "American relief work has saved Austrian children from damaging under-nourishment and meant more food for adults and also has had a tendency to stabilize our nation, politically."

President Hainisch wrote that "inasmuch as the American Relief Administration's European Children's Fund for Austria soon will have completed the second year of its operation this seems a fitting time to voice the profound gratitude felt by the Austrian government and the Austrian people to the people of America for their great and effective action of generosity and brotherhood."

"Assurances of health and strength for our coming generation, to which the American relief has contributed so splendidly, means for Austria a greater and more successful nation."

The report also states the intention of the Austrian officials to continue operating the school kitchens after the American operations automatically cease Sept. 1, 1921.

help to the solution of this problem.

In the United States, says Dr. Lemuel C. Barnes, the society is cooperating in 166 towns and cities in missionary and church extension work. Recommendation is made for more aggressive organization for smaller cities. In sparsely settled areas six general missionaries, 43 assistants, and 159 missionary pastors have had charge of 229 churches and covered a vast territory where there is no church. There are 15 Indian missionaries working among their own people. Reclamation projects in the northwest, says Dr. Barnes, foreshadow a big task along missionary lines in the near future.

Among the foreign born an attitude of bitterness, due to suspiciousness and indiscriminate charges of radicalism, to the coming of prohibition and propaganda about Sunday restrictions, Dr. Brooks reports, has hampered Americanization. However, on the Pacific coast much has been accomplished among Orientals, workers being sent among Chinese and Hindus. Mexicans, too, have responded well, and a Mexican department of the International Seminary has been opened in Los Angeles. In the training of leaders from other lands, Dr. Brooks says, the International Seminary will solve many present difficulties.

Thirteen Christian religious-educational-social centers are now in operation, supported jointly by the two Home Mission societies. Ten others are definitely planned and five others are conditional upon financial conditions.

Churches are recognizing community obligations, reports Rollix Harlan, and in several cities workers are being employed. Laymen are also organizing for voluntary service of this sort. Surveys are being made in several migratory labor groups of opportunities for religious and social service; also of hospitals and homes controlled by the denomination. Schools for rural pastors, just instituted during the last year are shown to be valuable. Increased use of automobiles to enable pastors to cover more territory is also found to help. Need of training for more lay preachers is emphasized as a means of meeting rural and community service problems.

In addition to establishing a boys' camp at Cranberry Lake in the Adirondacks, where selected boys will be given training along religious lines, the Baptist Brotherhood Federation has increased its membership during the year and now includes 600 groups. A marked turning to the church and a revival of interest in men's work is shown, says J. Foster Wilcox, director of the Federation.

Evangelistic efforts have been carried on with new emphasis, de-

Peasant's Bodice in Favor

Just because you wear a peasant's bodice doesn't mean you belong to the soil. Indeed the lovely blue silk frock with its chiffon collar and cuffs worn by Betty Carpenter in Paramount pictures wouldn't be very serviceable for a woman with a hoe. Shirred baby ribbons which form flower rosettes decorate the skirt. The burnt-orange hat, matching the collar and flowers on the frock, is trimmed with lilacs of the valley. The attractive peasant's bodice is in high favor this summer.

clared Dr. H. F. Stillwell, general superintendent of evangelism, several states have reported unusual increases in membership due to this factor.

In Latin America, Cuba has made great progress, but Baptists must erect more schools to meet the demands for service. In Mexico the Baptist hospital at Puebla has shown the value and need of similar hospitals in El Salvador, Nicaragua and Honduras, as well as training schools for nurses, says Dr. C. S. Detweiler, superintendent of Latin America work. Churches in Cuba and Mexico are adopting business methods and several have become self-supporting.

George E. Merrill, head of the department of architecture, reports that since June, 1920, the bureau has given aid in 120 religious buildings, including Christian centers, churches, schools, colleges, orphanages, hospitals and parsonages. Specialists in this bureau are giving individual attention to churches to make construction work more effective and adequate. The buildings in which the bureau is aiding represent an outlay of $6,000,000, Mr. Merrill states.

of Savings & Loan was held Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 instead of 7:30, the usual hour. Dr. J. R. Absent from the city: F. J. Andrews, T. V. Hopper and A. C. Metcalf.

Secretary Applebee reported the following shares issued since Jan. 1, 1921:

In the A class	102
In the B class	231
In the C class	11
Total	344

Loans completed since last meeting amounted to $5,900.00.

The demand for money far exceeds the receipts, although the latter are nearly three times as much monthly as those for the first year.

The tenth series opens for investors on July 1st, 1921, which closes four and one-half years since the association began business.

Each six months have allowed 4 per cent dividends compounded. The directors are much pleased with the steady and safe growth of the association.

ISSUE FORECAST OF ILLINOIS WHEAT CROP

Total is Placed at Approximately 48,757,000 Bushels—Estimate is Ten Millions Over That of Last Year.

(By the Associated Press)

Springfield, Ill., June 23.—Illinois wheat crop for 1921 is forecast at approximately 47,757,000 bushels, according to the Illinois crop report just issued by S. D. Fessenden, United States Agricultural statistician, which is based on reports he received up to June 1 of this year.

Mr. Fessenden's report indicated that the condition of winter wheat in Illinois on June 1 was 31 per cent normal, a drop of three per cent since May 1. The wheat yield last year was 35,720,000 and the average production for the past ten years is 38,045,000.

"In the fall of 1920 the ground was quite generally hard and dry and plowing and the preparation of the seed bed was delayed thereby," the state statistician adds. "This resulted in a somewhat smaller acreage of winter wheat being seeded than in 1919. Seeding was completed before the end of October. The plant made a very good start, being helped by rains in October and November. The stand was rather uneven in some southern counties.

"An unusually late brood of the Hessian fly appeared late in October but was apparently checked by early frost before any appreciable damage had been done. The plant went into the winter well rooted and, except in southern areas, with a strong and even stand.

"The winter was an unusually open one and there was no snow cover on the plant for any length of time except in a few northern counties, and the ground as a rule was not frozen to any depth.

"Due to general mild weather the plant kept green a large part of the winter and made considerable growth in February and March. Freezing weather on March 27 and 28 and again on April 9, 10, 16 and 17 cut back the growth somewhat but did no substantial damage to the plant.

"In southern counties due to wet, cool weather the plant took on a yellow color in April and May and the high condition of the early spring deteriorated slightly. On June 1 wheat was in bloom in southern areas.

"Spring wheat has made a good growth of late, has stood well and its condition is generally good. The acreage has been considerably reduced from last year, only about 83 per cent of last year's acreage being seeded."

Gasoline and Roast Beef

THE National Automobile Chamber of Commerce announces that six million cattle, hogs and sheep were shipped by motor truck, from farms and feed lots to stockyards, during 1920; most of them were moved in the territory served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Before the advent of the motor truck, the farmer drove his cattle to the loading station, and hauled his hogs in the small, slow-moving, horse-drawn wagons. This practice called for a great expenditure of time and labor, and caused the animals to arrive in an overheated condition, which meant a heavy shrinkage and a consequent lower market value. Today much of this loss is eliminated by the quicker, more efficient method of transportation. Middle West farmers have come to look upon the motor truck as a dependable, economical aid in the prompt and profitable marketing of their live stock.

By reason of its comprehensive system for distributing gasoline and other petroleum products, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a potent factor in stabilizing the use of the motor truck on the farms throughout the Middle West.

Whether the farmer lives on a main traveled highway, or on a remote cross road, he depends upon the dark green tank wagon of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to supply his needs.

The dependability of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service is recognized by the farmers of the Middle West—the most important food-producing area in the world.

In supplying the petroleum needs of the farmer, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is rendering a service of signal importance to every inhabitant of the territory served. A dependable supply of gasoline means a dependable supply of food.

Such service is possible only because the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company appreciate their responsibility to the public, and because 25,000 men and women who make up this organization realize the weight of this responsibility and the importance of their individual tasks.

While the equipment of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is vast and complete, it is the spirit of the personnel which makes for efficiency. The mere physical equipment would be impotent in the hands of the passive or inexperienced.

FUNERAL RITES SAID FOR MRS. T. B. DUDHOPE

Meredosia Woman Buried Monday Afternoon — Other News Notes.

Meredosia, June 23.—The funeral services for Mrs. T. B. Dudhope were conducted by Rev. D. L. Jeffers of Augusta, at the M. E. church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and despite the rain a large company was there to pay their respects to one who was loved by all. She was afflicted with cancer and had suffered intensely for many months but patiently, looking to her Savior for grace and strength to endure. She was devotedly cared for by her husband and kind friends and neighbors, who did everything possible for her. Death came as a sweet relief.

Mrs. Dudhope's maiden name was Rachel E. Tomlinson. She was born and grew to womanhood near Petersburg, Ill., where she received her education, and on her twentieth birthday, Oct. 27, 1889, was united in marriage to Thomas B. Dudhope.

In July, 1904, they moved to Meredosia and have resided here ever since. She was a member of the Petersburg Baptist church and lived a devoted Christian life. She was a kind and loving mother, a faithful wife and a good neighbor and a true and trusted friend and will be missed in this community, for for many years she has been an invalid. At the time of her death she was 31 years, 7 months and 22 days old. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her husband, one daughter, Mrs. L. E. Joseph, of St. Louis, Mo., five grand children, two sisters, Mrs. G. W. Kennedy, Mrs. E. F. Albert, both of St. Louis, and one brother, Charles Tomlinson, of Pisgah, fourteen nieces and nephews. The singing was by a quartette composed of Mrs. Charles Wegehoff, Mrs. H. D. Berger, J. A. Hilderbrand and H. A. Naylor.

(By the Associated Press)

Hardin, Mont. — The monument in memory of General Geo. A. Custer, to be unveiled on June 25, the forty-fifth anniversary of the battle of the Little Big Horn, has been completed in the city park here. The memorial, paid for by popular subscription of citizens of Hardin and Big Horn county, is of Montana gray granite and bears two bronze plates, one showing Custer's profile and the other giving the date and place of his birth and his military record. Plans for the celebration, which will include a reproduction of the massacre of Custer's command by Indians, enacted by United States cavalrymen, American Legion members and Crow Indians, provide also for an exhibit

YOUNG HUNGARIAN GOOD FINANCIER

Makes Profit of 4,000,000 Crowns From Dowry of Wife Then Sends Her Back Home with Dowry Intact.

(By the Associated Press)
Budapest. — A remarkable story of how a young Hungarian made a profit of 4,000,000 crowns by speculating with his wife's dowry and then sending her and her dowry back to her father, has just come to light here.

Four months ago Joseph Klein, a young merchant of Budapest of small means, married a Transylvanian girl and received with her a dowry of 2,000,000 Rumanian lei (worth at present exchange rates about one and one-fourth cents per lei).

The bridegroom quickly changed his wife's dowry into Hungarian currency and received in exchange 13,000,000 crowns, the crown then being quoted seven to the lei.

After the honeymoon the young husband found that his good opinion of both the Rumanian currency and of his wife had declined, and that the crown was now only five to the lei.

Mr. Klein thereupon bought back his wife's dowry for 10,000,000 crowns and sent her and her dowry back to her father. By that transaction Klein made a clear profit of 4,000,000 crowns and is now said to be on the lookout for another wife.

This is an example of how the marriage market here has been affected by the fluctuation of exchange values. When the Hungarian crown sank very low, the value of Transylvania, South Hungarian and Slovak girls backed by good Rumanian lei, Jugoslav dinars and Czechoslovak sokols, rose considerably in the eyes of the Hungarian youths and at least as many matches were made on the exchange as in heaven.

Slowly, with the improvement of the Hungarian money, the demand for girls from the lost provinces abated and Magyar girls are again very firm in the market. Former marriages with foreign currency girls are now being cancelled for the sake of Hungarian women.

MIDDLE WEST HAS NO MOVIE CENSORSHIP

Despite Agitation Not One of Thirteen States Has Passed Such Measures.

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago. — Not a single movie censorship act has been passed by thirteen middle western states. It is shown in a poll just completed, in spite of all the agitation for the passage of such measures on the part of civic and legislative bodies.

A writer of such legislation has been proposed. Some has merely been introduced. Some has passed one house. Some has even gotten a favorable hearing in the committee room of one house after having successfully run the gauntlet of opposition in the other. But always something has intervened to prevent its enactment into a law.

A typical case is that of Missouri. A bill to create a board of censorship consisting of three members, one a woman, at a salary of $3,000 yearly each, was passed, after a stormy debate by the lower house at the last legislative session. For some reason or other the bill was late in leaving the house. The senate committee took its full 10 days as entitled by law, in deliberating upon it. The result was that despite the strenuous efforts of its friends to get the bill on the calendar, it died in the committee room. This bill provided for a fee of $2 to be levied on the film manufacturer for each 1,200 feet of film censored. Had it passed, the normal circulation of films in Missouri would have been cut down by approximately 20 per cent, its sponsors say.

Many Consider Bills
Indiana, Minnesota and North Dakota all considered bills for creating censorship boards at their last legislative session, and the senate in the case of both Indiana and Minnesota killed bills the house had passed.

In South Dakota, perhaps, the bitterest fight of all occurred. A bill providing for the creation of a commission consisting of three members passed in the house. When it reached the senate an amendment was tacked on making it compulsory that all films and all advertising matter be submitted to at least two members of the commission, whose decision in all cases would be absolute and final. In this amendment the house refused to concur, on the ground that existence of a board so empowered would take away from the people the right of referendum. The senate refused to retract its amendment, with the result that the bill passed into limbo.

In Oklahoma no attempt was made to create a board of censorship, but a bill prohibiting the "exploitation of immoral and outlaw reputations" on the screen attained a majority in the senate during the last session. It failed in the house. There is in this state, however, an "informal" committee composed of ministers, club women and civic workers which is usually consulted before a film is exhibited bearing with any weight on religious, racial, or criminal issues.

Similar to the Oklahoma measure was that in Wisconsin which aimed to give control of film exhibitions to no specially created agency but merely to define improper screen exhibitions as coming definitely within the scope of the general act covering the dissemination of obscene, immoral or licentious pictures. Another bill, however, introduced at the same session, attempted to establish the regulation censorship board, through a part of the function of the state industrial commission. The first bill passed the senate, but due to the pressure of other legislation has not come up on the house calendar.

A variant in such bills was that proposed in Nebraska creating a board of three members "not more than two of the same sex" with salaries of $2400 annually, and providing drastic penalties for exhibition of films not presented to this board for inspection.

Somewhat similar was the proposal made in the Michigan assembly in the bill providing that general powers be vested in the state board of administration or such other agency as it may designate (the board however to reserve the right to act as court of appeal.)

The Illinois Bill

The bill now before the Illinois house would create a state board of five, not more than three of whom were members of the same political party, to be appointed by the governor, for four-year terms. This bill would exempt from the supervision of the board such pictures as were sponsored by religious, fraternal or educational institutions. It would attempt to weed out all films of a "sacreligious, vulgar, indecent, obscene, immoral, uncorrupt or of such character that their exhibition would tend to corrupt morals or incite to crime." Another bill before the Illinois assembly would compel the registration of all films with the state department of registration and education.

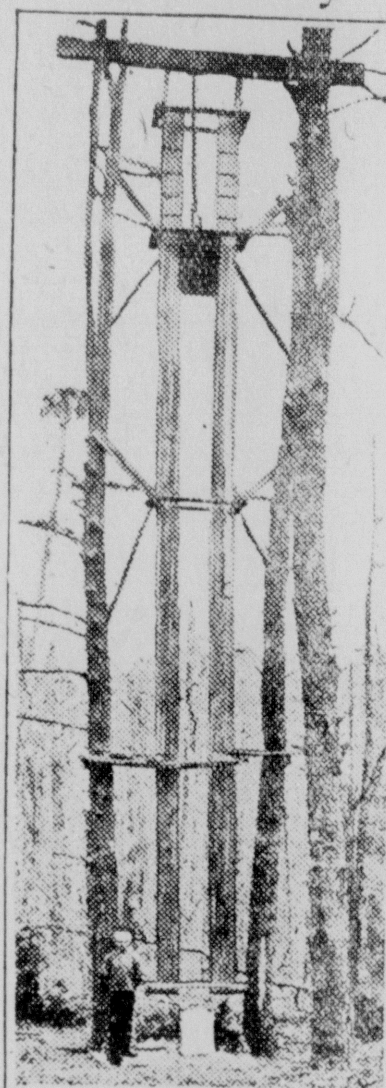

Kansas furnishes an old phenomenon in movie legislation. There is an old law in Kansas dating back to 1868, which forbids the Kansan to engage in other than "necessary" work on Sundays. Now, although the state supreme court has ruled that movies come within the provisions of this law, in certain communities no jury can be obtained to convict violators of this statute. Thus it is that Leavenworth and Atchison and certain other communities have movies week round while most of the smaller communities do not. The very unusual defense of Sunday productions was made by one exhibitor who asserted that since prohibition of his Sunday business would so seriously cut into his revenue as to throw him into bankruptcy, Sunday exhibitions were "necessary."

WOMAN NAMED AS RANGER

(By the Associated Press)
Bozeman, Mont. — Miss Marguerite Lindsley, a junior student in Montana State college here, is the first woman ever to be named as ranger in Yellowstone National park. Word of her appointment has been received here.

Miss Lindsley is anticipating no difficulty in pointing out to tourists the beauties and the wonders of the government playground, however, for the geysers and the hot springs are as familiar to her as the drinking fountains and the fire plugs are to many a city dweller. She is on terms of acquaintance with most of the birds and the beasts, and knows every hill and valley in the big reserve.

The new ranger's father, C. A. Lindsley, is assistant superintendent of the park and has been connected with the government service there for 26 years. Miss Lindsley has spent every summer of her life in the park.

Daily Market Report

WHEAT PRICES

CLOSED, STRONG.
CHICAGO, June 23.—Crop deterioration in northwest and harvest delay in southwest had a bullish influence on the wheat market today.

Prices closed strong 1 to 2 1/2
net higher with July $1.30 1/2 to $1.31 and September $1.23 1/2 to $1.24. Corn lost 1/2 to 1/4 and oats
1/2 to 3/4. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to higher.

Attention of wheat traders was directed chiefly to the effects of drought and excess heat in the spring crop belt and to unwelcome rain in the region where the harvest of the wheat crop is in progress. As a result the July-September difference in price showed a tendency to widen at times owing to commission house buying of July and selling of September.

The general upward tendency of the market meanwhile was encouraged somewhat by gossip that Germany had taken 2,000, 000 bushels of wheat in the last few days on three months' credit from English and Dutch banks. It was said also that Japan had purchased 500,000 bushels of wheat on the Pacific coast. With pit shorts covering at the last, prices closed at the highest point of the day.

Evidence that stocks of corn were piling up and failing to find an adequate outlet resulted in considerable selling pressure on corn and oats.

Indications of some export demand rallied the provision market from declines due to lower quotations on hogs.
